SUBJECT: Federal Food Donation Act of 2008

CONTACT: Charlene S. Allert, M.P.H. PH: (801) 538-7563

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) supports food recovery and gleaning efforts to reduce food waste and provide food to assist charitable organizations. This includes recovery of food leftover in the school meals programs. While school food authorities are required to prepare and maintain food production records to control production, sometimes events overtake good planning and excess food is produced. School Food Authorities should plan production for one meal per child per day, but forecasting the amount of food to prepare may sometimes result in leftover food. Schools are encouraged to offer daily unserved left-overs to area pantries and shelters. Pantries and shelters are generally prepared to pick up any useable foods offered to them.

The following can be taken to or picked up by any of these sites.

1. Whole fresh produce without significant decay
2. Chopped fresh produce packed separately in food-grade packaging
3. Prepared foods chilled to 40 degrees F that have not been served or placed on a buffet
4. Chilled perishable packaged foods such as juice and cheese in their original packaging
5. Meat, poultry, or fish chilled to 40 degrees F or frozen
6. Dairy products kept at 40 degrees F up to the expiration date
7. Shelled eggs
8. Frozen foods in original packaging
9. Baked goods (day-old bread, bagels, and other bakery items)
10. Canned and packaged goods in original packaging
11. Packaged food that has passed the "Best-By" date but not passed the "Expiration" date

The following can only be taken to or picked up by congregate feeding sites where it can be held and served the same day. Furthermore, the food must be transported in a temperature-controlled container (hot boxes, coolers, etc.) in order to prevent bacteria growth.

1. Foods that have been served or put on a buffet table
2. Foods that have been previously reheated

The following cannot be taken to or picked up by any site and should be discarded immediately. Discarding this food is not a waste. You are actually protecting the at-risk hungry community that they help to feed.

1. Foods that have been kept in the danger temperature zone for more than 2 hours
2. Foods with damaged or compromised packaging, resulting in the loss of a sanitary barrier protection
3. Produce with significant decay
4. Frozen foods with severe freezer burn
5. Open, punctured, bulging, or seriously damaged canned goods

A list of food banks, pantries and shelters is attached.

The sites printed in bold are congregate feeding sites.
